

Article Review

Complete APA bibliographic reference:

De Voogd, G., & McLaughlin, M. (2004). Critical literacy as comprehension: Expanding reader response. Journal of Adolescent & Adult Literacy, 48 (1), 52-62.

Three to five descriptor terms that best describe the topic:

Main: Critical reading, reader response, adolescent literacy

Type of Article:

Other: Classroom Practice

Levels: Middle school (6-8),

High School (9-12)

Briefly stated major purpose(s) of the article:

This article presents information on how to help students become critical readers. Information is presented about creating classroom environments and situations that encourage critical literacy.

Discussion article – summarize the major points in 1- 4 sentences:

This article briefly reviews the development and definition of critical literacy and four principles of critical literacy. The article then describes the role of the teacher, students, and text in an environment that promotes critical literacy. Three methods of incorporating critical literacy into the classroom are illustrated.