

During the course of one hectic day the Freedom City police responded to several calls. For the first call police were called to the area shopping mall. Upon arrival they noticed the town eccentric, Willie Weirdo doing his morning shopping wearing nothing but a pair of boating shoes. Freedom City has a law that bans lewd and lascivious conduct in public. Later in the day Steven Simplemind was found threatening a tour group from the Free Republic of Virgil with racial epithets and physical violence. Later it was determined that Steven had tripped earlier that morning in his kitchen and hit his head on a fondue pot. He recalled nothing between the nasty fall and his incarceration. Lastly, Calvin Cokehead was found in the town square yelling and screaming while lying under a park bench. The police arrested him and charged him with being a cocaine addict. Explain the criminal liability of all three persons.
