

Curriculum Vitae
Kevin J. Dougherty

Address: 33 South Point
Hattiesburg, Mississippi 39402

Telephone: 601.266.4455 (Work)
601.264.4405 (Home)

Email: kevin.dougherty@usm.edu

Education:

Master of Strategic Studies, 2005, US Army War College
Master of International Relations, 1994, Troy State University
Bachelor of Science, 1983, United States Military Academy

Employment History:

US Army officer, 1983 to 2005. Retired as a Lieutenant Colonel. Various positions as an infantry officer and foreign area officer to include battalion commander and professor of military science/department chair.

Instructor, 2005 to present, University of Southern Mississippi, Department of History

Skills:

Planning and leading military staff rides.
Analyzing historical actions in terms of current and enduring military doctrine.
Analyzing national security issues in terms of the instruments of national power.

Publications:

Books:

Civil War Leadership and Mexican War Experience, The University Press of Mississippi, 2007.

The Peninsula Campaign: A Military Analysis, The University Press of Mississippi, 2005. Nominated for Ninth Annual Library of Virginia Award in nonfiction.

Monograph:

“The Coastal War in North and South Carolina,” The Blue and Gray Educational Society, 2003.

Articles:

Over 55 articles in military professional and other journals including:

“Sherman’s Meridian Campaign: A Practice Run for the March to the Sea.” Mississippi History Now (Apr 2007). Available on-line: <http://mshistory.k12.ms.us/>

“Invading Sicily- A Tale of Branches and Sequels.” Joint Forces Quarterly (Summer 2002): 108-113.

“The Evolution of Air Assault.” Joint Forces Quarterly (Summer 1999): 51-58.

“Fixing the Enemy in Guerilla Warfare.” Infantry (Mar-June 1997): 33-35.

“Artillery Raids: Vietnam, Desert Storm, and Future Applications.” Field Artillery Journal (July-August 1996): 30-33.

“Bridging Doctrinal Concepts on the Decisive Point.” Military Review (July-August 1995): 62-65.

“The Indirect Application of Military Power: US Policy Toward Nicaragua.” Military Review (October 1994): 52-63.

“Bastogne: Aerial Resupply of an Encircled Force.” Army Logistician (November-December 1993): 25-27.

“The Viet Minh at Dienbienphu: Artillery in a Mountainous Environment.” Field Artillery (August 1993): 16-19.

“Supplying Merrill’s Marauders.” Army Logistician (May-June 1992): 28-29.

Encyclopedia Entries:

World War II in the Pacific: An Encyclopedia, edited by Stanley Sandler. New York: Garland Publishing, 2000.

World War Two in Europe: An Encyclopedia, edited by David Zabecki. New York: Garland Publishing, 1999.

The Korean War: An Encyclopedia, edited by Stanley Sandler. New York: Garland Publishing, 1995.

Conference Papers Presented:

“Changes in the Use of Force, Decision-Making Models, and International Relations Theory in the US,” International Security/International Safety Conference, Mississippi State University, Mar 2007.

“Objective as a Principle of Military Operations Other Than War,” Global Policy and Development Conference, Old Dominion University, Apr 2006.

Consulting:

Prentice Hall. Reviewer of Heritage of World Civilizations: TLC Edition.

Amber Books. Reviewer of The Timeline of the Civil War.

Awards:

Outstanding Instructor Award, The University of Southern Mississippi Department of Athletics, 2006, 2007.

Third Place in Command Military Leadership Essay Contest 2002.

Second place in Joint Forces Quarterly Writing Contest 1999.

Third place in Military Review Writing Contest 1994.

First place in The Field Artillery Association History Writing Contest 1993, 1995, 1996.

Daughters of Colonial Wars Award for Excellence in American History, United States Military Academy, 1983.

Works-in-Progress:

“Coastal Operations in the Civil War: A Campaign Analysis” (book-length manuscript)