OFFICE OF LEADERSHIP AND STUDENT INVOLVEMENT

www.usm.edu/lsi

The Office of Leadership and Student Involvement at The University of Southern Mississippi provides valuable co-curricular experiences that exist to foster student growth and development while creating pathways for students to engage in the Southern Miss community. The Office of Leadership and Student Involvement (LSI) oversees just under 200 student organizations, their registration and events, and leadership development and programming for campus each year. This document provides the policies and procedures for registered student groups to have meetings and events on the campus of The University of Southern Mississippi including guidance on the privileges, obligations, due process, and the chartering process for new groups. All campus policies and procedures can be found at www.usm.edu/leadership-student-involvement/studentorgpolicies, however the following sections are provided for added depth to specific sections. Questions about these policies and procedures can be forwarded to lsi@usm.edu.

The Code of Conduct for Student Organizations

Relationship of Student Organizations to the University: Recognition of, or registration of an organization does not mean that the university supports or adheres to the views held or position taken by registered or recognized student groups. Responsibility for any action that violates federal, state, or local laws or university regulations is assumed by the individual group and its advisor(s), officers, and members.

Student organizations are to abide by the University Student Code of Conduct through the Dean of Students Office. Any violation of the Code of Conduct from individual students and/or organizations will be submitted to the Dean of Students Office.

Additional policies, procedures, and guidelines for student organizations can be accessed online at www.usm.edu/lsi.

Privileges, Obligations, Recall, Due Process, and Responsibility of Registered Organizations

Upon official recognition by The University of Southern Mississippi through the Committee for New Student Organizations, there are certain privileges and obligations afforded to registered organizations:

Privileges:

Student organizations can reserve university facilities and outside spaces and rent a university post office box in addition to exclusive office events such as involvement fairs each year. The process for obtaining a mailbox, along with hours of operation, mail distribution hours, and sending mail procedures can be found at www.usm.edu/post-office.

Obligations:

- A. Each organization has a minimum of 10 full-time student members (or can work with LSI to establish a plan to ensure continued success and longevity of the organization) and an on-campus advisor.
- B. Each organization's officers are required to register their organization with the Office of Leadership and Student Involvement each year by completing the Organization Information Form (OIF) online through the LSI website. If the OIF is not completed by the deadline, the student organization will become inactive and will lose the privileges mentioned.
- C. Each student organization should provide the Office of LSI with a list of new officers and/or advisor(s) after elections each year.
- D. Each student organization commits itself to sponsor events that will benefit both the group and university, and to uphold the university regulations, including the Student Code of Conduct, Code of Ethics for Student Organizations, Leadership and Student Involvement Policy, city ordinances, and all state and federal laws.

Recall:

The approval of a student group at The University of Southern Mississippi is made based on compliance with the above Privileges and Obligations of registered student organizations. Failure of the student organization to conform to the above-mentioned obligations, to conditions of approval, and any breach of LSI and/or university policies may subject the organization to recall by the Office of Leadership and Student Involvement, Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life and/or the Dean of Student Office. Recall may result in the president and advisor(s) of the organization having to appear before an appropriate committee to answer any charges that have been brought against the organization.

Due Process:

If student organizations violate any Leadership and Student Involvement policies, Privileges and Obligations of Registered Organizations, the Student Code of Conduct, or other University regulations, certain disciplinary procedures will be instituted against the organization initiated by LSI or the appropriate administrator.

Responsibility:

It is the responsibility of the president and advisor of the student organization to interpret and enforce these regulations. The organization's officers will assume full responsibility for the conduct of their members, guests, and entertainers.

Cancellation of Events:

- A. Dean of Students, responsible for the overall safety of the university community, may exercise the authority to cancel an event when conditions arise that may not be in the best interest of the university. The cancellation notification will be distributed through the Office of Leadership and Student Involvement. The sponsoring organization and offices involved in the event planning of the event shall be notified immediately upon the decision to cancel.

- B. During an approved activity/event, the University Police Department or acting university official can discontinue a sanctioned activity/event.

It shall be a violation of the University Noise Policy for any person to play, use or operate any device for reproducing or amplifying sound on university property if the sound generated is audible at a distance of 50 feet from the device producing the sound.

TIME

Organizations should specify their desired time and sound requirements when seeking activity approval through the appropriate approval process. The consideration for approval of “special events” and the use of amplified sound (radio, loudspeaker or any device used to increase audible volume level) will be up to the discretion of the individual event, LSI director and facility manager.
