CCCE Offers 2017-18 Funding Opportunity for Faculty

The Center for Community and Civic Engagement (CCCE) at the University of Southern Mississippi is accepting applications from faculty and departments to implement service-learning in the classroom.

Conville Service-Learning Development Award
One $2,000 grant will be awarded to past graduates of USM’s Faculty Fellow Seminar on Service-Learning for the purpose of

- Developing or re-designing a service-learning class
- Conducting or developing community-engaged or service-learning research
- Collaborating on an inter-collegial service-learning initiative
- Advancing and promoting service-learning at USM
- Integrating service-learning into a college or department degree plan

Recipients will receive $2,000 to facilitate the development of their project. Funds must be spent by June 1, 2018 and may be used for travel funds, project supplies, or to reimburse a course release offered by an academic department.

The application is attached and is due July 14, 2017 by email to christy.arrazatee@usm.edu.
Name___________________________________  Email__________________________________
Phone__________________________________  USM Box_______________________________
Department_________________________________________________________________________

Please provide a brief history of your experience with service-learning.

Name and description of your proposed project.

How will the funding be used?

What existing resources and/or connections will be helpful as you implement your project?

What are your long-term plans regarding a) service-learning pedagogy b) community-engaged scholarship?
Applications are due to CCCE no later than July 14, 2017. Send applications to Box 5211 or email them to Christy.Arrazattee@usm.edu. For inquiries, contact the Faculty Liaison for Service-Learning: Linda.Allen@usm.edu.