ASSISTANT PROFESSOR POSITIONS IN COUNSELING PSYCHOLOGY

The Department of Psychology at the University of Southern Mississippi invites applications for two full-time, tenure track, 9 month, Assistant Professor positions beginning August 2016. This is an exciting opportunity to join a dynamic scientist-practitioner, counseling psychology training program in the Department of Psychology, including an APA-accredited doctoral program, terminal master’s program, and an undergraduate psychology major. The Department of Psychology has approximately 600 undergraduate majors and 125 graduate students across three APA-accredited doctoral programs (Counseling, Clinical, & School), master’s programs in counseling psychology and applied behavior analysis, and a general/experimental doctoral program. More information can be found at www.usm.edu/counseling-psychology.

The Counseling Psychology program emphasizes research mentorship, diversity, and training in evidence-based practices. Master’s and doctoral students provide psychological services through an in-house training clinic, including assessment and treatment for both university and community clients. The clinic permits close supervision of counselors and psychologists-in-training by program faculty; we hope to recruit applicants with interest in and ability to provide clinical supervision of practicum students in our in-house training clinic, provide assessment training and supervision, as well as mentor graduate student research. Opportunities to obtain post-doctoral supervision towards licensure (which includes mentorship, professional development) and/or to conduct and collaborate on research are available.

Primary responsibilities will include teaching 2 classes each semester:

- including supervision of graduate level practicum courses in our in-house clinic, and
- graduate courses on objective and/or cognitive assessment (e.g. personality assessment, WAIS, and WIAT), and/or
- graduate courses in multicultural counseling, and developmental approaches
- graduate or undergraduate courses in your area of expertise and departmental needs.

Qualifications include: a doctoral degree from an APA-accredited program in counseling psychology by August of 2016 and strong teaching and supervisory skills. Candidates who have experience with and interests in assessment and evidence-based practices are strongly encouraged to apply.
