5.0 Remarks from Administration

5.1 Interim Provost Wiesenburg

Dr. Wiesenburg addressed questions submitted to him prior to the meeting. Dr. Wiesenburg stated that the transition of Chad Driskell to the Vice President for Administrative Affairs should not have any impact on Academic Affairs. In regard to recent events surrounding the Southern Miss U-tab pilot program, IHL has broadened their interest to look at student fees at the University. Of the 759 tablets that were distributed fall semester, all but three have been tagged as University property. Dr. Wiesenburg asked for input on what to do with the tablets. Ideas can be submitted to deans or David Sliman.

Dr. Wiesenburg has organized a task force, co-chaired by Sheri Rawls and David Sliman, to look at distance communication capabilities on campus. Dr. Wiesenburg is hoping to improve connectivity between the Hattiesburg campus and campuses on the Gulf Coast.

In regard to moving retention efforts to Student Affairs, deliberation with various university groups was not possible. Dr. Wiesenburg stated that retention efforts and needs are too immediate to allow for such discussions. Senators discussed the benefits and limitations of having retention efforts in Student Affairs. Dr. Wiesenburg is looking for additional dollars, perhaps currently designated for Administrative Affairs, to be re-designated for Academic Affairs.

Senators and Dr. Wiesenburg discussed the current textbook policy and contract. Faculty members are encouraged to document problems with ordering or obtaining textbooks from Barnes and Nobles and to submit a description of the problems to Dr. Cynthia Easterling. A four-year contract with Barnes and Nobles was recently renewed. Senators also discussed the problem of overcrowded classrooms with Dr. Wiesenburg.

The Academic and Governance Committee disseminated a recommendation that the University allow multi-year contracts for clinical faculty members, but not tenure. The Committee asked whether the Senate supports the position for multi-year contracts. Instructors would not be in this class.
