March Auditorium

DANNY (color, 90 minutes)
Prod/Dir: Gene Feldman
Dist: Wometst Productions, 1980

Twelve-year-old Janie experiences a dream come true when she's allowed to help train her neighbor's pony, Danny, but complications arise in the form of Danny's owner, The cowboy-trainer, and an injury to Danny.

Paperback copies of the novelization of Danny are available at the bookstore. Libraries which lease the film from Wometst will receive twenty free copies of the book.

YOUNG ADULT FILMS
Thursday, March 25
2:30-4:30 PM
Cook Library Conference Room

THE RAG TAG CHAMPS (color, 48 minutes)
Prod: ABC Weekend Special
Dist: ABC Wide World of Learning, 1978

Based on the novel, Jake, by Alfred Stieglitz. Young Jake Weather is in trouble. The principal suggests he be placed in a foster home unless his school attendance improves, and his baseball team will be expelled from the recreation league unless it finds a suitable coach.

3:18
THE OLD MAN'S STORY (color, 24 minutes)
Prod: Gibson Film Productions
Dist: ABC Wide World of Learning, 1979

Based on the short story by New York writer Frank Spageini. The time is 1929, the last summer the narrator spent on his uncle's farm. The boy's best friends is Bisley, an aging dary hand. A 13-year-old orphan girl is led to do house chores. Tragedy occurs when she is discovered in Bisley's room.

3:42
MY MOTHER WAS NEVER A KID (color, 46 minutes)
Prod/Dist: Learning Corporation of America, 1960

Based on the novel, Haist 4 Out With Clic, by Frenzie Pauzol. When 13-year-old Victoria Martin falls on a subway train, she awakens in 1944. She is befriended by Clic, a boisterousiosk devoted to Frank Sinatra. When Clic invites her home, Victoria finds to her horror that Clic's mother is her own grandmother!

CHILDREN'S FILMS
Friday, March 26
2:30-4:30 PM
Stout Hall B

DRUMMER HOFF (color, 6 minutes)

A pioneer of film animation, Lotte Reiniger began producing films told in delicate silhouettes in the 1920's. In this film, two little girls become a bear that is really a prince.

3:32
GUNEA PIGS IS PIGS (color, 15 minutes)
Prod: Frame and Bill Page
Dist: Barr Films, 1981

Based on the 1906 short story by Ellis Parker Butler. When Mike Harrington, a freight clerk, insists on charging the livestock rate to ship two guinea pigs, Mr. Morehouse leaves his pets in the freight office and begins a lengthy correspondence with the Inter Urban Express Company. In the meantime the guinea pigs increase drasticly in number.

3:30
THE SILVER PONY (color, 7 minutes)
Prod: Brownstone Entertainment
Dist: Churchill Films, 1981

Based on the book by Lynd Ward. A boy living on a farm escapes in his imagination on a winged pony, bringing joy to others. When he crashes to earth, he becomes ill, to be made well again by a real pony of his own.

3:30
THE FROG KING OR FAITHFUL HENRY (color, 15 minutes)
Prod/Dist: Tom Davenport Films, 1981

A live action adaptation of the Grimm fairy tale of the king's daughter who encounters a frog that is actually a prince. Best Children's Entertainment Film, 1981

American Film Festival—Blue Ribbon

4:30
MOON MAN (color, 8 minutes)
Animato: Gene Detch

Adapted from the book by Toru Ungere. Bored with his life, the man in the moon catches a shooting star to earth, where he's treated as an invader and set to jail. He uses his lunar powers to escape and returns to the moon in a space ship.

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN MICHIGAN MEDALLION
The awarding of the University of Southern California Medallion to Beverly Cleary is the highlight of the Fifteenth Annual Children's Book Festival, March 25 and 26, 1982. The University of Southern California Medallion is awarded annually for outstanding contributions in the field of children's literature. Recipients of the Medallion include: Lois Lenski, 1969; Ernest H. Shepard, 1970; Roger Duvoisin, 1971; Marcia Brown, 1972; Lynd Ward, 1973; Taro Yashima, 1974; Barbara Cooney, 1975; Scott O'Dell, 1976; Adrienne Adams, 1977; Madeleine L'Engle, 1978; Leonard Everett Fisher, 1979; Ezra Jack Keats, 1980; Maurice Sendak, 1981; Beverly Cleary is proudly added as the fourteenth recipient.

Six silver medals are struck: two for the recipient; one for the President of the University of Southern Michigan; one for Dr. Lena Y. de Grummond, originator of the Collection; and two for the Collection for permanent display. In addition, a number of medallions are struck in bronze.

The de GRUMMOND COLLECTION

The de Grummond Collection is open year round for study and research, and is housed in USM's McCain Library. The Collection features over 5,000 volumes of HISTORICAL CHILDREN'S BOOKS AND PERIODICALS. The ordin is an edition of Anser's PFLs as published in 1530. Of particular note are nearly 300 original drawings by Kate Greenaway. The Collection also includes works by Hans Christian Andersen, Randolph Caldecott, Jacob Abbott, Juliana H. Ewing, Palmer Cox, and many others. Included among the periodicals are St. Nicholas, Chatelbox, Aunt Judy's Magazine, Little Folks, and others.

CONTEMPORARY AMERICAN WORKS FOR CHILDREN make up the heart of the Collection. They comprise over 8,000 volumes, 1,500 cubic feet of manuscripts and drawings. More than 750 authors and illustrators have contributed. Among the best represented are: Erick Berry, Harold Berson, Marcia Brown, Natalie S. Carlson, Betty Cavanaugh, Margaret White Clark, Barbara Cooney, Roger Duvoisin, Seymour Fleishman, Harriet Grinnell, Norroy Hogrogjan, Alexander Kay, Madeleine L'Engle, Lois Lenski, MERRIT MAUZEN, Shirley Rousseau Murphy, Gail Owens, Maude and Miska Petersham, Lynd Ward, and Taro Yashima. The material includes manuscripts, sketches, color separations, galleys and page proofs, dummies, correspondence, and research notes. A primary goal of the Collection is to document the entire creative process from notes and sketches to published editions.

The Collection sends TRAVELING EXHIBITS to schools and libraries throughout the continental United States. Exhibits have been displayed in 54 states. Each exhibit has 18 panels featuring representative drawings and paintings.

For more information about the Collection, write: The de Grummond Collection Southern Station, Box 5148 Hattiesburg, MS 33086-5148
BEVERLY (BUNN) CLEARY

The fourteenth recipient of the University of Southern Mississippi Medallion was born in McMinnville, Oregon, on April 12, 1916, to Chester and Mable Bunn. Beverly B. Cleary's early years were spent on a farm near the small town of Yamhill, Oregon. As Yamhill did not have a library, Mrs. Bunn persuaded the Oregon State Library to send books regularly to Yamhill. This was Mrs. Cleary's first exposure to books.

The Bunn family moved to Portland, Oregon, where Mrs. Cleary attended elementary and secondary school. She had difficulty with reading in her early years, but developed into an adept and avid reader in the third grade. Mrs. Cleary's childhood frustrations in not finding humorous books concerning ordinary children deeply influenced her later writing.

Beverly B. Cleary received her B.A. degree from the University of California, Berkeley, in 1938. The following year she received a B.A. in librarianship from the University of Washington. She served as a children's librarian in Yakima, Washington, until her marriage in 1940 to Clarence T. Cleary. As a librarian, she worked with many children who were looking for the same humorous stories that she had craved as a girl.

The Clearys soon moved to California, where Mrs. Cleary served as Post Librarian at the Oakland Army Hospital during World War II.

Henry Huggins (Morrow, 1950) was Mrs. Cleary's first attempt at professional writing. She decided to write the kind of story that she had wanted to read as a child. Henry Huggins was immediately popular with children. In later writings, characters such as Ellen, Beezus, Otto, Ribsy, Socks, Ralph, and Ramona have come to life, delighting children all over the world.

Mrs. Cleary's popularity with children is unrivaled. She has won more than twenty-five child-voted awards. One of her earliest such honors was the Dorothy Canfield Fisher Children's Book Award of Vermont for Fifteen (Morrow, 1956), presented to Mrs. Cleary in 1958. She has won the Pacific Northwest Library Association Young Reader's Choice Award (five times) and the Nene Award of Hawaii (five times). Mrs. Cleary was the first winner of the Texas Bluebonnet Award for Ramona And Her Father (Morrow, 1977) in 1981.

The American Library Association selected Mrs. Cleary as the recipient of the Laura Ingalls Wilder Award in 1975. Ramona And Her Father was chosen as a Newbery Honor Book in 1978 and as a Boston Globe-Horn Book Honor Book in the same year. The Catholic Library Association named Mrs. Cleary the recipient of the prestigious Regina Medal in 1980. Her latest publication, Ramona Quimby, Age 8 (Morrow, 1981), is Mrs. Cleary's twenty-fifth title to be published by William Morrow & Company. Ramona Quimby, Age 8 has been selected as a Newbery Honor Book for 1982.

Sales of Mrs. Cleary's hardcover titles have exceeded 3.2 million copies. Her books have appeared in many languages in ten countries. Television programs based on the Henry Huggins series have been produced in Japan, Denmark, and Sweden.

The Clearys, parents of twins (boy and girl), reside in Carmel, California.

"Kids are missing a tremendous part of life if they don't read. You have to get them started early so that it becomes a habit.

These words explain the primary mission of DR. CAROLINE FELLER BAUER, the author of five books, who also was the ALA Publishing Department's best-selling author for 1978 with her Handbook for Storytellers. Her most recent book, My Mom Travels A Lot (Warne, 1981), illustrated by Nancy Winslow Parker, was named one of Ten Best Illustrated Books by The New York Times. (The book is affectionately dedicated to her 12-year-old daughter, Hilary.) Her next work, This Way to Books, is a compendium of the unique programs and activities she uses to get children excited about reading. It will be published by the Wilson Company this spring.

Dr. Bauer is a graduate of the Library School at Columbia University and she has worked as a librarian in New York and Colorado. She received her Ph.D. in Speech from the University of Oregon, where she eventually became an associate professor and won the 1968 Enid Award for Distinguished Teaching.

CARRBOL CASE is a native of Lincoln County (Bristol), Tennessee. He currently lives in McMinnville and is president of a banking institution.

Mr. Case draws his inspiration from Mark Twain and tries to write so that readers can identify with the characters and events.

Carroll Case has written three memoirs: "Youth: A Memory," "Rebecca," and "Grapevine, Rabbit Tobacco and A Boque Chito Red," and is now working on another short story, "A Lap Rifle and A Buried Duck," which will be about mental illness.

Mr. Case is president of First Federal Savings and Loan in McComb, and enjoys his three careers--those of businessman, artist, and author.

"I work at the bank for eight hours each day, and then I go home to write or paint another eight hours. I don't consider my art of writing a hobby since I do it all time. It's a second profession."

ED EMBERSLEY is a well-known name in the field of children's books. He has been the recipient of the highest awards in the field, including the Caldecott and the Caldecott Honor Book Awards. His books have been praised by many. The New York Times over the years has chosen Emberley books among its annual selections for the "Best Illustrated Books of the Year," and many of Mr. Emberley's books have been selected by the American Library Association for the annual Notable Children's Book list. But the Emberley success story is not limited to the praise of critics or to awards and honors. His work has reached schools, libraries, bookstores, and homes because Ed Emberley can turn anyone into an artist.

Mr. Emberley's wife, Barbara, has worked as a librarian at Brown University, and has frequently joined forces with Mr. Emberley on book projects. Michael and Rebecca, their children, have also helped their father's book projects move from the beginning idea to completion. Michael is now writing and publishing books of his own, and Rebecca is working on several book ideas herself. The Emberley family is very much a part of the children's book world. Barbara and Ed Emberley currently reside in a 1690 saltbox house in Ipswich, Massachusetts.
