The focus of this course is to examine issues around hunger and the nutrition transition occurring throughout the world with an emphasis on the Caribbean rim. Issues around food production, trade agreements, migration and agribusiness will be explored as well as health and chronic disease issues related to the nutrition transition. We will discuss global and local efforts to eradicate hunger and further explore issues around hunger and the nutrition transition by visiting markets, farms, plantations, urban and rural areas as well as having guest lecturers and presentations.