ECO 101 – Basic Economics.
Principles of microeconomics and macroeconomics applied to current social issues for understanding of policy proposals. (3 hours).

ECO 201 – Principles of Macroeconomics.
A study of a nation's economy. Topics include inflation, unemployment, gross domestic product, business cycles, and international influences. (3 hours).

ECO 202 – Principles of Microeconomics.
A study of market systems. Topics include supply and demand, the behavior of firms and households in different market structures, and government intervention in markets (3 hours).

ECO 305 – Economic Issues.
A survey of history of economic thought, economic history of the United States and the fields of economics. (3 hours).

ECO 330 – Money and Public Policy.
A study of the nature and functions of money, financial institutions, monetary theory, and the political, social, and international context in which economic policy is formulated. Prerequisites: ECO 201 and ECO 202. (3 hours).

ECO 336 – Survey of International Economics.
An introductory study of why nations trade, tariff and nontariff barriers to trade, commercial policy, balance of payments accounting, exchange rate determination, balances of payments adjustment, and the international currency system. Prerequisites: ECO 201 and ECO 202. (3 hours).

An intermediate study of the determination of prices in factor and final product markets. Prerequisites: ECO 201 and ECO 202. (3 hours).

This course uses economic theory and empirical methods to study the issue of crime and punishment. (3 hours).