The Residual Gas Analyzer (RGA) Pumping Carts are used to analyze the materials for outgassing in reference to an optical witness sample (OWS) with an emphasis on non-metallic materials. The current system was partially automated and required an upgrade. The upgrade process involves the implementation of a programmable controller, a graphical user interface (GUI), and automation for some system devices that were operated manually.