Course Description
• This course provides an analysis and evaluation of social, cultural, and political factors and their influence on the evolution of architectural design, 1500 century to present.

Course Overview
• This course provides architectural, construction, and interior design students with an introduction to the many individuals and types of building materials, methods and styles used in architecture from early 1500th century through modern times.

Course Outcome(s)
• In this course, students develop introductory level knowledge about the individuals, cultures, materials, and processes as they developed and impacted early through modern architecture. This basic understanding will allow students to further develop their expertise of the construction methods and styles used in industry by providing the framework upon which the remaining construction and architecture courses can expand.
Student Learning Outcomes (Objectives)
1. Recognize and distinguish differences between well-known architecture and eras
2. Define common terms associated with architecture
3. Design, develop, and prepare detailed writings
4. Use USM's Library as a resource for locating articles, reference manuals, and books containing information about a significant figure in the field of architecture
5. Analyze how developments in building materials, social, religious and economic factors have influenced architecture
6. Demonstrate presentation skills by designing, developing and delivering presentation(s)

Course Communication
• The primary mode of communication outside of the classroom will be via e-mail/blackboard. The instructor will check email regularly, and you should receive a response within one business day of successfully sending the e-mail. Students must originate emails from their campus email address and proper email etiquette is expected. In the event that you experience technical problems or the instructor is unable to respond due to extenuating circumstances, you are encouraged to contact the School of Construction main office staff for assistance.

Required Text (s) and Readings
• Additional online material will be provided to the students on blackboard.

Technology Requirements
1. Microsoft Word – all files should have the .doc or .docx file extension
2. Microsoft Power Point – all files should have the .ppt or .pptx extension
3. The ability to download, save and read Adobe pdf documents

Class Procedures and Requirements
• All assignments will be given with reasonable completion times and you are encouraged to immediately begin working on them in an effort to meet deadlines. No late work will be accepted. Early submissions are welcome.
• All assignments will be evaluated for grammatical and spelling errors. Points will be deducted according to the number of errors contained in the submitted work and the impact these errors have on the quality of the assignment
• The instructor uses assessment rubrics to evaluate student assignments. Students are given these for each assignment for the course. Each rubric clearly details the criteria used by the instructor to award grades. Students are encouraged to review these rubrics in order to find out what they must deliver in order to receive a desired grade.

Class Participation Policy
• Attendance is required. There will be a regular program of lectures, presentations and quizzes. For excused absences, you have to give a written proposal for completing missed work prior to the absence. Emergency, Medical, or Athletic/Academic leaves must be processed by the University and/or School of Construction with proper documentation. A verified excuse must be obtained from The Office of Student Oriented Services in RC Cook Union 221. Missing tests, quizzes and presentations etc. due to unexcused absences will receive a zero. Early submissions are welcome.

Writing and Speaking Centers
- Both Centers are located in the Cook Library. The Writing Center is in room 112 and the phone number is 601.266.4821. The Speaking Center is in room 114 and the phone number is 601.266.4965. The Web sites are http://www.usm.edu/speakingcenter and http://www.usm.edu/writingcenter. Both Centers are designed to assist students, at no cost, to improve their written and oral assignments. The instructor recommends that you visit them to help you improve aspects of your assignments.

The following is from the USM Undergraduate Bulletin:

“When cheating is discovered, the faculty member may give the student an F on the work involved or in the course. If further disciplinary action is deemed appropriate, the student should be reported to the Dean of Students. In addition to being a violation of academic honesty, cheating violates the Code of Student Conduct and may be grounds for probation, suspension, and/or expulsion. Students on disciplinary suspension may not enroll in any courses offered by The University of Southern Mississippi.”

ADA Policy

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the American with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office for Disability Accommodations (ODA) for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact ODA if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.
